THE WAR

By Howard Handleman

Far Eastern Director, INS

TOKYO, Sept. 15 — (INS) — The Korea armistice negotiations remained suspended for the 24th day today but the question of reviving or abandoning the talks was expected to be decided shortly.

There was still no indication as to when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway would reply to last Wednesday's note from the Red high command asserting the truce parley could be resumed only on Red terms and only in Kaesong.

Nor was there any sign up until a late hour Saturday of any imminent Red reply to the United Nations' admission of an apology for a mistaken Allied air strafing of neutral Kaesong last Monday.

Front dispatches reported today an estimated 500,000 Chinese and North Korean troops—supported by tanks, self-propelled artillery and perhaps a large number of planes—were massed across the front, ready to unleash a big offensive.

Allied troops were poised for another major test of strength, if it comes, and meanwhile continued their month-long struggle for mountain vantage points in eastern North Korea.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Three loans totaling $645,000 were made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in 1949 to a St. Louis printing concern after the intervention of William M. Boyle, Jr., chairman of the Democratic National Committee, a Senate investigation committee brought out yesterday. These loans had been rejected earlier, it was shown.

A policy directed toward "the maintenance of a durable peace" through a European army with German forces, an industrial pool and, if possible, agreement with the Soviet Union was approved in principle by the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France in Washington. They were said to have drawn up a positive program for world stability to be discussed at the North Atlantic Council meeting opening in Ottawa tomorrow. Belgium's Van Zeeland, at Ottawa, urged financial relief for rearming nations.

Chancellor Adenauer welcomed the Washington decisions as strengthening German security and prospects for peace. French anxiety over undue haste in the rearmament plans for Germany was allayed.

Premier Yoshida told the Japanese people he would not rearm the country and some quarters assumed that he planned to retire when the pending security pact was ratified.

WOMAN ON RAMPAGE PRIOR TO JAILING

"Mrs. Donna L. Jonas" Allegedly Tried to Set Two Fires and Maim Justice

ARREST AT YARDLEY

YARDLEY, Sept. 15 — Success was chalked up yesterday by a 48-year-old woman in drawing a jail sentence after she unsuccessfully tried to maim a justice of the peace, and start a fire in his office.

The woman identified herself yesterday as Mrs. Donna L. Jonas, of Hazleton. Her term is 30 days in Bucks County prison. Warden Earl D. Handy claims she is Mrs. Anna Chickery.

The frenzied activity all started when Mafekfield township Chief of Police Robert W. Waterson, and Yardley Chief of Police Raymond S. Hoagland were summoned by a passerby. The two officers took Mrs. Jonas into custody as she allegedly weaved back and forth across River road, shouting as loud as she could.

Mrs. Jonas was taken to the office of Justice of the Peace A. H. Dillman, Newtown. While being queried she attempted to pull Hoagland's revolver from its holster.

While being charged with being drunk and disorderly, she pulled a bottle from her handbag and threw it at Dillman. It is claimed, with a narrow miss. Then she tried to set fire to the Venetian blinds in the office. Another attempt at arson is claimed for her, en route to Doylestown prison in Waterson's car. The officers extinguished the slight blaze.

CONFEREES TODAY SELECT NOMINEE OF REPUBLICAN PARTY FOR CONGRESSIONAL POST FROM THE BUCKS-LEHIGH DISTRICT

Boomed for Congress

Conferees from the Eighth Pennsylvania (Bucks-Lehigh) Congressional District met in Philadelphia this morning to nominate a Republican candidate for Congressman to fill the vacancy caused by the death September 1st of Representative Albert C. Vaughn. A special election has been called for this purpose by Governor Fine at the same time as the regular general election November 6th.

Twenty-nine of the conferees are from Bucks County and thirty-two from Lehigh County. The membership in the conference committee is based on the number of votes cast in each county for the Republican candidate in the last Presidential election, each thousand votes entitling the county to one conferee.

The Bucks conferees met at 10 a. m. to organize and caucus. The hour for the full conference session was noon.

It was expected that the entire Bucks delegation would endorse Karl C. King, of Morrisville, nationally known as a large-scale produce grower. The feeling has been strong in this county that the next Congressman should be named from the region in which the huge steel-plant and residential expansion is taking place. Lehigh county had all the four congressmen elected during the past eighteen years.

The names of the Bucks County conferees follow: State Senator Edward B. Watson, Mechanicsville; Hon. Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol; Simon K. Moyer, Silverdale; Mrs. Mary H. Dunn, Mechanicsville; Arthur M. Eastburn, Esq., Doylestown; C. Wilson Roberts, Esq., Southampton; Mr. Arthur C. Shaw, Upper Black Eddy; J. Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq., Bristol; Mrs. Walter H. Smith, Bristol; Hon. Wilson L. Yeakel, Perkaskie; Mrs. John W. Cooper, Pineville; Norman Refsnider, Richlandtown; Joseph A. Keating, Pennell; Miss Mary Yardley, Yardley; Willard S. STATE PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING AGENCY EARMARKS OVER 40 MILLION DOLLARS TO EASE CRITICAL SHORTAGE OF CLASSROOMS

By Ed Hauck

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 15 — (INS) — Pennsylvania's Public School Building Agency has earmarked more than 40 million dollars to date to ease the critical shortage of classroom space throughout the State.

The Authority has entered into contracts with school districts to lease 85 projects.

The Council of State Government reports that the Commonwealth took the lead with the idea of aiding school building construction through creation of the Public School Building Authority and that it has caught on in several other states.

Lack of adequate room brought on by the wartime boom in babies is evident not only in Pennsylvania but in other sections of the country, according to the group.

"At the present time, about two-thirds of the area of the county is given over to farming with the other third comprising the rest."

HIGHEST TAXES EVER

Never before have Americans paid as much in taxes, both federal and state, as they did in the fiscal year ended June 30. Revenue from federal taxes was more than $50,445,000,000, a gain of nearly 30 per cent, up more than $11,000,000,000 from the preceding year.

Furthermore, the Treasury reports that in every one of the 48 states more taxes were paid than in the year before. In consequence state taxes, totaling $8,932,000,000 were 13 per cent higher, and the increase in the fiscal year ended June 30 was in excess of $900, 000,000.

Part of this—is it an indeterminable part—is to be accounted for by present inflation and part by increased taxes, both federal and state.

The outstanding fact in this Treasury report is, of course, that federal tax collections are higher than in any year of World War II.

During the entire fiscal year involved the nation was at war in Korea and was spending heavily on armaments against a possible conflict with Russia, and was leading billions to European nations to bolster them.

Six states—New York, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania, California and Ohio—were the highest taxpayers in that order, and together they contributed more than 50 per cent of federal taxes.

The story next year at this time, as a result of the revenue bill on which Congress is working, will be of still heavier taxes.

ANTIQUES ON THE ROAD

The Office of Price Stabilization has set a standard for determining when a motor car ceases to be an automobile and becomes an antique.

OPS has ruled that, when a car has reached the age of 25 years, it is an antique and no longer subject to price regulation.
All owners of cars of more modern vintage will agree, but dissent is to be expected from those whose horseless chariots date back to the period which would rate them prize. They will contend that not age but performance should be the test of modernity.

A well-known singer whose hobby was collecting ancient autos once approached a woman whose car was as age-worn as herself and sought to buy it as an antique.
The woman was indignant. She apprehended the brash young man that her vehicle was no antique—it was capable of a snappy 25 miles an hour in any company.

There is much to be said for the cars of yesteryear, whose only attachment was that which their owners formed for them through the years. Old Reliable had none of these new-fangled gadgets to get out of order. It was pure transportation, unadorned by all the mechanical additions that make a man helpless today when some mysterious Rubie Goldberg arrangement gets out of order.

Yet, this single sigh is adequate to the good old days when every man could, if need arose, be his own mechanic.

to provide these units with necessary classroom equipment, training aids and instructional reference material has been made.

The 9550th Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron consists of three flights. A and B meet the second and fourth Monday of each month in the meeting rooms of the Coates-Jordan Post No. 163, American Legion, third floor, Center Building, York road and Greenwood avenue, Jenkintown. Flight C meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month in the Administration Building of Bristol Terrace I, at eight p. m.

Every Reservist owes it to himself to become a member of the Volunteer Air Reserve. By so doing he can acquire points toward promotion, retention and retirement. Members of these units are eligible for promotion, short tours of duty and schools.

Although membership in a Volunteer Air Reserve Training unit does not accelerate recall to active duty, the members of these units are able to keep up with the latest developments in the Air Force so that in the event of recall they are prepared to take their proper place in the expanding Air Force.

Reservists in this area who are interested in joining the Volunteer Air Reserve may obtain all necessary information at Room 512 Finance Building, 1416 South Penn Square, Philadelphia, or from the local unit commander in this area,

Agricultural Change For Bucks Discussed

dentical and non-farming areas. If heavy industries continue to come into the county and if the population increases in proportion, another third of the land will be taken away from agriculture.

"Some of the changes which might be expected in that case are more landscape nurseries will develop, more greenhouse production, poultry plants will be enlarged, fences will tend to disappear as the land will be utilized right up to the highways, and there will be much more conservation than we have at present."

To clarify the ideas of many people regarding the position of the county agricultural extension agent, he explained that these men are employed by Pennsylvania State College and not by any department of the state government.

"This came about when the Federal Government created the land grant colleges in 1861, which, among other things, were to establish and maintain schools of agriculture," he said.

In order to give the farmers the benefit of their research and experiments, the county extension office was created and agents appointed to carry this important work to all parts of the state.

Sentence Meted To Bogus Check Passer

Mrs. Kane, who said the defendant presented a Morrisville Bank check which he said he obtained from a drug store. He forged the names of two fictitious signatures on it.

"You could have been charged with forgery, too," said Judge Keller to the defendant, who admitted that he was sentenced to serve five years on a forgery charge in the Virginia prison, but escaped after being there four months.

A detainee has been lodged against him here by the Virginia authorities. Dodson, who was employed in Philadelphia, stopped off in Morrisville.

Officer Joseph Bresley, of the Morrisville police, said the baby clothes were found in his overnight bag. He had $13 in cash when apprehended which will be turned over to Mrs. Kane by Prison Warden Earl D. Handy.

Officer Bresley, upon investigation, said the drug store proprietors denied they gave the defendant a blank check.

situation, where one office a couple of miles from another will remain open, while the other closes.

The situation seems to be most prevalent, it was said, among postmasters who are also storekeepers, and find it just as convenient to stay open, although the postmasters are paid actually for a 40 hour week, or a little better in a few rare cases.

The discussion was left open for further investigation, with the possibility of a committee being appointed to cover the matter more thoroughly. All large first and second class offices have been adhering to the instruction.

Plans were made for the next meeting to be held in Doylestown, Oct. 10, and final arrangements are being made to have a civil service authority to speak on retirement benefits for postmasters, carriers and clerks.

State Public School Building Earmarks Over 40 Million Dollars To Ease Shortage directly to the needy districts.

Projects for which contracts to be made have been made are almost entirely for classroom buildings with some auxiliary facilities such as auditoriums and gymnasiums.
More than half the jobs are for joint districts.

Here's how the plan works: A district files an application to the Authority which passes it on to the State Department of Public Instruction for approval.

After the Department sanctions it, the District agrees to lease the completed project at a yearly rental determined by the Authority. The full cost must be paid off within 40 years.

A 1949 amendment, however, allows the State to help districts in paying rentals if they can prove financial inability to pay.

Construction is financed through bond issues and the Authority does not have the power to pledge the credit or taxing power of the State nor any school district. Administrative costs are paid from a State appropriation.

There was no expenditure limit nor time limit set for the Authority's existence.

Other States' plans are generally the same. Maine empowered its agency to issue bonds to be retired by rentals paid by the cities using the space with a 15 million dollar debt limit.

Georgia's Authority has $180-000,000 worth of improvements set as its goal for improving schoolroom facilities.

STOCK CARS OF LATE MODEL TO RACE TOMORROW

The late model stock cars will make their initial appearance of the campaign tomorrow afternoon in the NASCAR sanctioned 150-mile Grand National Circuit championship around the world's fastest one-mile raceway, Langhorne. The feature will commence at 2.45 p. m.

Several important titles will be at stake in addition to the Grand National championship, which will see top drivers sharing a purse of $5500.00. The season point championship, which currently has a pot of $24,000.00, will be at stake with three of the aces in the running. The lead will probably be decided as a result of the Langhorne grind. A special cash award is also being offered for the fastest time trial.

The three speedsters who will be battling for the point lead are: Herb Thomas, of Olivia, N. C., the Flock Brothers, Fonty and Tim, both of Georgia. Thomas holds the lead at the present time as a result of his sensational triumph in the Darlington event—in this grind he pushed his Hudson Hornet to a spectacular win. Fonty and Tim Flock are in second and third spot respectively. They both pilot 1951 "Olds."

Marshall Teague, the heavy set and heavy footed knight of the stock raceways from Daytona Beach, Florida, should rate as one of the outstanding threats. Teague has piloted his Hudson Hornet to five major triumphs so far this year. Another top contender will be Tommy Thompson, Thompson, a resident of Louisville, Ky., won the Detroit "250" from one of the strongest fields of the season and he will be piloting the same Chrysler that carried him to the Detroit win.

Wally Campbell, popular Trenton ace who won the 50-mile modified event at Langhorne in early August, and Buck Baker, current leader in the modified field, are two of the top entries. Campbell and Baker are proficient at manipulating the modified stocks and although the points in the 150-mile tomorrow do not figure in the standing it will, however, be interesting to witness the battle between the two.

PENNSBURG MEETS ST. FRANCIS TEN IN GAME UNDER ARCS

The first scholastic football game in this area will be played this evening as Pennsburg high meets St. Francis Vocational School, of Eddington, starting at eight o'clock. The game will be played under the lights on the Robert Morris gridiron in Morrisville.

Pennsburg high, a member of the Lower Bucks League, has a veteran squad ready for action against the Eddington lads, losing only four lettermen from last season. Coach George Jarmoska and his assistant, Adam Donzanti, expect the Falcons to romp to an easy triumph.

Coach Jarmoska has a strong backfield in Grady Mayo, Jack Sands, Dave Bray and Don Briggs with such reserve material as Edward, Hackmahl, Casey, Swangler, Seaneella, Baglow, Turner, and Kemble.

Linemen for the Falcons are: Doheny, Parto, Coia, Marion, Borden Tigre, Bennett, McIntyre, Bixel, Watts, Kellett, Pope, Larson, Maz-zochi, Hertz, Ellis, and Hill.

The starting St. Francis lineup will most likely be composed of: Ends, Weir and McBride; tackle, Weber and Casey; guards, Jackson and Clark; center, Lipolis; quarterback, McGann; halfbacks, DeBello and Douglas; fullback, McLaughlin.

FIFTH WARD WINS PLAYOFF HONORS

With Stanley "Butch" Koreyva pitching a one-hitter, Fifth Ward Sporting Club won the playoff championship of the Bristol Suburban Softball League, blanking the 3M's team, 4-0, last evening on Memorial Park softball diamond. It was the second straight win of the final playoffs for the Warders with a tied game played between the two teams.

Koreyva's fireball was entirely too much for the scotch-tape makers as George Wallace was the only player to reach first base and did there on both occasions. In the second inning, Wallace opened the frame by drawing a walk while in the fifth he started the inning with a hit to right. Koreyva retired every other batter to face him, fanning seven. He was given good support as his mates played errorless ball with Joe Pica making two nice stops and John "Brown" Cordisco coming through with a fine back-handed catch of Pica's throw in the final inning.

The winners managed to get to George Wallace for six hits. The first two runs scored by the winning team was a gift by Wallace while the final two were earned runs. Wallace pitched hitless ball until he was wild in walking six batters and hitting another. Ray Pierandozzi, Dick Addo, and Burt Whitney did nice fielding behind Wallace.

Gordon Fahey had a perfect evening for the winning team getting two hits in two official trips to the plate. He walked twice. "Smithers" Cordisco and Henry Liberatore drove in a run each with a safe hit.

Fifth Ward had two on base in the first as the result of a walk and error but Cordisco flied out for the third out. In the second two runs crossed without the benefit of a hit. Liberatore was passed. Koreyva lined out. Liberatore went to second on a passed ball. Pete Mancini walked. Mancini tried for second and Fanini's throw had him but Hinkle dropped the ball. Partryke bunted and on Wallace's bad throw to first, Liberatore and Mancini scored.

The Warders got two on base again in the third but failed to score as J. Cordisco and Liberatore lifted flies to the outfield. In the fourth, Fifth Ward again missed the boat. Koreyva was passed. Mancini hit to short who touched second, forcing out Koreyva. Umpire Bob Hughes then called Mancini out, claiming Koreyva interfered with Whitney. Fifth Ward protested the decision. Partryke followed with a hit and Russo walked but Smithers Cordisco grounded out.

The third Fifth Ward run came in the fifth. Fahey singled to center. Pico and Pica were out. J. Cordisco was hit with a pitched ball. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Liberatore singled to center, scoring Fahey. Koreyva lined to Ray Pierandozzi.

The fourth and final tally was manufactured in the sixth. Mancini doubled along the left field foul line. Partryke sacrificed, Mancini going to third. Russo hit to Whitney and Mancini was caught in a rundown and put out. S. Cordisco singled to right, Russo scoring. Fahey hit safely but Pico's long fly went to Vic Cauti.

Lineups: 3M's: Cauti If, Pierandozzi 3b, Addo c, Wallace p-1b, A. Lewis 1b-p, Whitney ss, Hinkle 2b, Kline rf, Fanini c, Fairbanks sf.
Fifth Ward: S. Cordisco rf, Fahey ss, Pierandozzi 3b, Addo c, Wallace p-1b, A. Lewis 1b-p, Whitney ss, Hinkle 2b, Kline rf, Fanini c, Fairbanks sf.
